

The Roun'da Manure Bicycle Tour is a one-day bicycle tour through pastoral farmlands and friendly towns. Sharon is centrally located along the southern Wisconsin state line, between the cities of Rockford and Chicago, Illinois, and Madison and Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Sharon retains its small town charm while offering great cycling country. The network of quiet rural roads through this area is perfect for cycling.

As a resident of Sharon and a former resident of northern Illinois, I have ridden these roads for over 40 years. After 50 bicycle races and tours across America, I can honestly say that the roads in this area offer some of the best cycling in the United States."

- Lon Haldeman, 8-time transcontinental record holder

The Roun'da Manure Bicycle Tour includes:

- A choice of 4 marked routes. Each route has color-coded arrows and signage for easy navigation. Maps and cue sheets listing turns, towns, and snack stop locations are provided.
- Each rider will receive coupons for ice cream or other snacks at locally famous ice cream shops. Water and snack services are available.
- Paved rural routes, no stop lights, and lots of cows.
- After the ride, swap bike tales with fellow bikers while enjoying a home-cooked summertime meal of a pig roast, included in your entry fee.

Location

Sharon, Wisconsin is located 6 miles west of Highway 14 and 12 miles east of Interstate 90, between Highway 67 and State Line Road. The ride begins at Goodland Park under the water tower. Free parking is available at the base of the water tower, on the corner of Church and Park Street, just off of Highway 67. Sharon is the home of the official Sharon Cycling Series.
